A representative of the Independent Steamship Corporation of New York, a newly-organized American shipping line, recently visited Singapore for the purpose of effecting agency arrangements preparatory to the entry of this company's vessels in the shipping trade with the Orient.

These cargo vessels, which are of from 8,000 to 9,000 tons, deadweight, are to run from New York, via the Suez Canal, to Singapore and the Dutch East Indies, the first of which, the "Osakis" is due in Singapore about the middle of May, to be followed by another, the "Wancanda", in a short time. The fleet of vessels will be gradually increased in number to meet the shipping needs.
