

THAILAND

THAI-KHMER RACIAL RELATIONS

By

H.E. Luang Vichitr Vadakarn

Chairman of Thailand's
Broadcasting Committee

Department of Publicity,
Bangkok, Thailand.
December 1940.

FOREWORD

The Department of Publicity finds it absolutely unnecessary to introduce the Speaker to the readers. His name is identical with the works he has written and the patriotic songs he has composed, read and sung all over the Gold Peninsula, some of which have even found their way abroad and have since been translated into the languages of the lands of their adoption.

His broadcast speech on the subject which forms the content of this booklet was, however, to the heart's delight of the Thai listeners-in, who were so great in number that if they were to form into a single line, they could cover the whole length of the Mékong River and the Peninsula's coastline as well.

This speech was delivered in Thai language. An attempt is made in this booklet to offer to the English reading world its faithful translation.
